MILLIONAIRES OF PITTSBURG ARE SCORED

Ida M. Tarbell, Noted Woman Sociologist, Points Out Greed, Stupidity and Hard Heartedness of These Protectionists, Due to Tariff Provisions Enjoyed for Many Years.

Steel Trust Profits, Estimated at $80,000,000 in 1907, Go to Build Fine Palaces and Chateaux in New York and Paris, While Homes of Workmen in Smoky City are Unsanitary and Overcrowded.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, April 12.—The Pittsburgh millionaire carries on his person the stamp of greed, of stupidity, and of hard-heartedness according to Ida M. Tarbell, but this is due only to the tariff provisions he has enjoyed but not needed, she says. He has fought for it because he has thrived on it, insists Standard Oil's historian, and claims he must have it for labor's benefit. In this month's issue of the American Magazine the noted woman sociologist will discuss Pittsburgh as the seat of city and what it has done for its workmen. The smoky city is the greatest monument to high protection in the country according to her having reaped for fifty years as no other center could, the benefits of prohibitive duties. Its industries have produced more wealth than any other section and they have produced enormous fortunes.

Statistics show that for 12 hours a day seven days a week the Pittsburgh workmen, work, eat and sleep. And what do they earn for their toil? In the tariff protected industries, steel and iron, the wages are so low as to be inadequate to the maintenance of a normal American standard of living.

Statistics are then quoted to show that the times of the Pittsburgh workmen are the most unsatisfactory of such nature as to endanger health while the school system is such that children find victims of unsanitary buildings.

"Ought not the Pittsburgh schools be closed and the children prepared?" is asked. Continuing she says: "Justice takes a terrible revenge on those who thrive by privilege. She blinds their eyes so that they no longer see human misery. She makes their hearts until they no longer beat with humanity. She benumbs their senses until they respond only to the narrow horizon of what they can individually possess, touch, feel. She makes, as she has in Pittsburgh, a generation of men and women who day by day can see the hundreds of thousands of filthy homes in which the men and women who make for them their wealth, live and feel no shock. Little children may die or be maimed and evil within their sight and no penny of their wealth, no hour of their leisure is given them. Women may put in hours of incessant toil and be honored within their sight and they raise no hand.

"Wealth, which comes by privilege, kills. The curse of Justice on those who will not recognize injustice in the sudden mind and unfeeling heart."

FIRE MARSHAL LAW
Committee Believes Bill for State Official Would Not Pass.

Hartford, April 21.—The bill providing for a State fire marshal to hold office for four years was again considered by the committee on insurance yesterday afternoon. Fire Commissioner A. H. Bullard of Bridgeport, president of the Fire Prevention Association of Connecticut, was the principal speaker. Senator Chase, chairman of the committee, explained that the bill would not be in favor of any of the provisions of the bill relating to detection and punishment of crime by the fire marshal, and that that branch was sure if they could appear before the Legislature and argue in favor of the bill which they could prevent of fire loss.

Commissioner Bullard told how he came to be interested in this work after he had been appointed a member of the fire board. Often, he said, the fire marshals were doing their duty and that he was sure if they could appear before the Legislature and argue in favor of the bill which they could prevent of fire loss.

Referring to the fire marshal he said that he did not know specifically what advantage it would be to the State, but that he was sure if they could appear before the Legislature and argue in favor of the bill which they could prevent of fire loss.

TO PREVENT ILLICIT SELLING.
Hartford, April 21.—No opposition developed at the hearing before the Ex-Examiner yesterday afternoon, but providing that sheriffs shall twice a year procure from the United States revenue collector the name and place of residence of each person who has been introduced into the town where the person holding such receipt resides. Emil L. G. Hohenthal of South Manchester, at whose request the bill was introduced, said that it was to show up those persons who held a government license, but did not have a State license to sell liquor. The object being to put a stop to illicit selling.

M. T. Smith of Hartford spoke at length in support of the bill, calling the attention to the vast difference in the amount of government license and State license in the State. H. H. Spooner of Kensington also supported the bill.

DEATH OF J. B. UNDERWOOD

Father of Arthur Underwood Former Local Newspaperman.

Judson B. Underwood, a former resident of New Haven, died Monday in Newark, N. J. The funeral services were held in the Evergreen cemetery chapel upon the arrival of the New York train in New Haven this forenoon. The Rev. D. D. Munro of Calvary Baptist church, of which Mr. Underwood was an old member, officiated, and the interment was in the Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Underwood was born in Wales, Mass., September 28, 1842, and was the son of the Rev. Uriah Underwood and Sarah Lyon. His boyhood was spent in Andover, the State, moving later to Hartford. Here he married Clara A. Case of Rockville, in October, 1862. He lived in Hartford for some time, and was prominent in Hartford's early fire department service, being fire marshal of that city up to the time he removed to Meriden. In Meriden, he was engaged for many years in the Edward Miller Company. In 1884 he went to New Haven, where he became engaged in the manufacturing of brass goods. Since that time he had been at the head of several large brass manufacturing concerns, in which business he was engaged in at the time of his death in Newark, N. J.

Mr. Underwood was the founder and the first president of the West End Improvement Association, a very popular and well known organization in New Haven. While in New Haven he lived at 449 Edgewood avenue. He was a member of the order of Knights of Pythias and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He is survived, besides his widow, by a daughter, Clara B. Underwood, of New York, and two sons, Arthur B. of Newark, N. J., and Eugene B. of New Haven, a grandson, Arthur J. Underwood, of Newark, N. J., and a brother, Dwight L. Underwood, of Norwich, this State.

His son, Arthur B., was for many years a foremost newspaper worker in this city.

DO YOU OWN A HYOMEI INHALER?

This is a picture of the little Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) inhaler; if you have one in your home you have a treasure.

Into this hard rubber inhaler you can pour a few drops of Hyomei and presto, you have the best little physician for catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup and all the ailments of the world has ever known.

When you breathe Hyomei you bring the healing virtues of the most potent forest to your home. You get the very same healing, antiseptic, and preservative that you would breathe if you resided in the forests of pine and eucalyptus of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption was never known to exist.

If you have a Hyomei Inhaler in your home, any druggist will sell you a bottle of Hyomei for 50c.

If you have not an inhaler, ask your druggist for a complete outfit, which costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and simple instructions for use.

Hyomei is guaranteed to cure catarrh, asthma or bronchitis, or money back. It will relieve a cold in five minutes, and will break it up in five hours. It is the most gratifying relief to consumption sufferers.
